THE HOLIDAY GUIDE

As we transition into the Holiday Season and 2022 comes to an end, we've taken some time to reflect on everything we have accomplished together and how bright our future stands.

After two years living through global market inconsistencies, it has been proven that transparency, adaptability and an elevated standard of customer service is the only answer.

We are thankful for your loyal support, our CTI Family - our team, partners and friends. Your partnership and continuous support are invaluable to us and we don't take it lightly. In fact, our clients inspire us to keep striving for nothing less than greatness.

From basic grower pots and thermoform trays to premium decorative planters, we've got you covered and we are here to help you continue to expand your potential to grow.

We wish you a joyous Holiday season filled with love and happiness, and we can't wait to achieve great things with you in the upcoming year.

The future has never been brighter.

Happy Holidays from all of us, to you!

Scott and Michael
